CHESTERFIELD NHS SIGNS FIVE YEAR iTRENT CONTRACT

Serving a catchment population of 400,000 in North Derbyshire and beyond, Chesterfield Royal Hospital NHS Foundation Trust signed a five year contract for iTrent, MidlandHR's fully integrated HR, payroll and talent management solution, which went live in April 2009.

Chief executive, Eric Morton comments: "We are pleased to be working in collaboration with MidlandHR. The trust's payroll system was implemented many years ago and no longer meets our needs. MidlandHR provides a flexible, modern solution, which not only ensures that our 3,500 staff are appropriately paid, but also makes sure we can effectively manage other human resource issues in the organisation."

Richard Thomas, director of sales and marketing at MidlandHR, explains: "With over half of MidlandHR's customer base comprising public sector organisations, MidlandHR has developed a thorough understanding of this sector and are very proud to have partnered with Chesterfield Royal Hospital NHS Foundation Trust.

delivering hard cost savings through improved efficiencies, centralisation of information, reduction of paper processes and increased employee engagement, freeing up valuable public sector funds.

"As with every customer, MidlandHR are working very closely with

"To reflect the experience gleaned through numerous public sector partnerships, MidlandHR have worked closely with our customers to develop a series of public sector specific business packs. These implementation approaches deliver vital pre-configured functionality around pension schemes, terms and conditions, absence schemes, rostering, Cyclical returns, and shift pattern pay to name a few. These functionalities help to reduce project risk and implementation times, Chesterfield Royal Hospital NHS Foundation Trust on a strategic level to ensure that they are leveraging the very best from our iTrent HR, payroll and talent management solution, whilst building a solid partnership of trust for future success."
